

Recruit future ICT professionals

Looking for your next great hire?
Discover motivated professionals ready for their next career opportunity.

Recruit skilled professionals effortlessly!

The Route to Code Recruitment Training offers companies the opportunity to train and recruit new talents tailored to their needs. Through our program, you will find the Full Stack experts you require!

Our hands-on training combines expert teaching with practical workplace learning. The program provides participants with a strong foundation in web development using the MERN stack and Python, while also offering an introduction to the use of AI in software development.

The training is held in English and is designed for applicants whose native language is not Finnish. The program includes Finnish language lessons.

Seize the opportunity to discover your company's next top talents!
